AL-MADINAH ISLAMIC RESEARCH CENTER

تحت رعاية خريجي الجامعة الإسلامية بالمدينة الطيبة

التعريف | الأهداف | النشاطات | الخطط

Masjid Sa'ad Bin Abi Waqas, D.H.A IV, Karachi

Al-Madina Islamic Research Centre is a research-based, educational, propagational, training-oriented and welfare-provisioning institute. The establishment of this institution is based on the vision of a select group of Islamic scholars after completing their education at the Islamic University of Madina. Their vision was to form an institute that calls people towards Tawheed (monotheism), eliminates Shirk (polytheism) and Bida'h (innovation), defending the Sunnah of the Messenger (ﷺ) on every front and serving and aiding the religion of Islam according to the methodology of our pious predecessors.

The foundation stone of "Al-Madina Islamic research center" was laid at the end of 2009 in Saudi Arabia. In this regard, a few important meetings were held in Madina Munawwara whereby the aims and purposes of this institute were formulated. Further the academic board, faculties and the central cabinet of the institute were also formed. Hence, after the graduation of the 45th batch of Islamic university of Madina and their return (select group of scholars) to Karachi, this project was formally inaugurated in October 2010 with the intention to achieve its aims and long term goals.

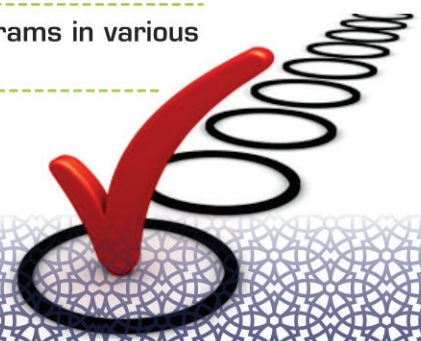

VISION

"Formation of a global institute which prepares and develops such capable individuals who while keeping in mind all the basic social requirements across all walks of life, utilizing the noble methodology of our pious predecessors and in adherence with the guidelines of the Quran and the Sunnah can train and guide the Muslim Ummah in the fields of education, research, training and Islamic propagation"

- To provide a platform to the returning graduates and scholars of the Islamic University of Madina, whereby they could utilize their individual skills and work and contribute to the various sectors of the society.
- Aiding, propagating and spreading the religion of Islam and the doctrine of Tawheed (the oneness of Allah جل جلاله).
- Providing a reference-based response to the ideologies presented and propagated by preachers of false doctrines and beliefs and the deniers of Hadith.
- Conducting educational work and running training programs in all sectors of the society, particularly in areas previously not addressed by scholars.
- Utilizing all possible and effective means in the media to propagate the Islamic faith and making their halal and permitted use easy and accessible.
- Conducting and performing welfare and human-relief programs in various sectors.

Department of Research

- Al-Bayan: A knowledge and research based magazine, published with the aim of training the masses and spreading the message of Islam.
- The publication and initiation of this quarterly magazine was undertaken to defend Islamic principles, ideas, beliefs, its proposed way of life and the Hadith of the Messenger (ﷺ). Also the purpose was to destroy the many age-old and modern created controversies and upheavals, provide solutions to modern economic problems and to propagate Islamic morals and principles.
- A total of twelve editions of this magazine have been published so far, including three special numbers on "prohibition of alcohol", "modern economy and the implemented system of Islamic banking" and "Islamic culture".

On the topic “illegality of wine”, Al-Bayan’s special edition was published – this discussed and presented detailed references and proofs regarding the illegality of wine, its damages in this worldly life and the hereafter, Islamic orders and judgments regarding the trade of wine in a Muslim society and the sharia-prescribed punishment for a drinker.

A special edition in excess of 500 pages was published on Islamic banking and the modern economic system. In this issue, a referenced and well-detailed analysis was made of the currently implemented system of Islamic banking. Also Sharia-compliant alternatives and recommendations were made, well-referenced and articulated articles on the modern economic system and answers to various related questions were also published.

Alhamdulillah, Al-Bayan magazine's special edition on "Islamic culture" was published with research based, reformative and well referenced articles meant at addressing issues pertaining to disjointed families, destroyed homes, evil western ploys to poison the souls of our youth and womenfolk and to provide guidelines to our young generation and the overall society to counter the venomous effects of a deeply secular modern day media.

Conferences & Seminars

The Muqaddas Rasool (ﷺ) conference

In order to prevent and stop the evil and grave attempts of tauheen -e-risalat (Blasphemy) and to assess the punishment of the blasphemer, a "muqaddas Rasool (ﷺ) conference was held. A detailed discussion and debate on the aforementioned topic was held and attended by well-known scholars of Hadith.

A historical and combined fatwa (jurisprudential opinion) was issued by the scholars of Hadith on the blasphemy law. This fatwa was read out and was published and telecasted by well-known publications and television channels in Pakistan.

Conference regarding the

"illegality of wine and the illegality of its trading"

In order to prevent the rampant spread of liquor consumption in an Islamic society, a conference was held to highlight the illegality of its consumption, its harmful effects in the worldly life and in the hereafter, Islamic order and judgment regarding its trade in Muslim countries and to assess the punishment of a drinker. At the end of this conference, a combined fatwa (jurisprudential opinion) was issued by prominent scholars of Hadith.

Islamic Banking on the scale of the Sharia

A historical seminar was held to analyze the reality of the currently implemented system of Islam banking, to conduct a referenced analysis on its compliance with the Islamic Sharia, and to provide recommendations for corrections in this system and present its sharia-compliant alternatives.Heads of various Islamic Universities, scholars of Hadith, Islamic Legal advisers (muftis), economists, and various businessmen, traders and bankers linked to the Islamic banking network attended the Seminar.

Difa-e-hadith Encyclopedia
(Encyclopedia of "defending the hadith")

Work is underway on developing an encyclopedia to collect and gather all doubts and controversies of the past and the present age relating to the Hadith and the Science of Hadith and the answers given by the pious predecessors in response to doubts created by the miscreants in this regard.

The issue of tauheen-e-risalat and the punishment of a blasphemer (book under publication):

In this book, the issue of blasphemy (Tauheen-e-Risalat) has been clearly analyzed in the light of the Quran and the Sunnah. The sayings of the pious predecessors and well-referenced answers to questions and doubts created in the issue of blasphemy have also been given in this under-publication book.

- During the Hajj season, unique and quality intensive workshops are organized at various venues to educate about the Sharia-prescribed ways of performing the hajj and the umrah.
- During the Hajj season, a hajj camp is organized at the hajj terminal Karachi. At this camp, the pilgrim's Islamic beliefs are reformed on the pattern of the Quran and the Sunnah, they are provisioned Islamic guidance on performing the hajj and the umrah and they are also provided voluntary help and assistance.

Literature and booklets:

Islamic literature and booklets have so far been published on Islamic beliefs (aqaid), Ablution and cleanliness, Namaz-e-Nabawi (ﷺ), Seerah of the Messenger (ﷺ), Masnoon azkaar and other reformative topics.

Interior Sind Dawah Program

With regards to this project, the primary aim was to appoint tutors and callers to Islam in those far-flung areas of the province of Sindh that are deeply immersed in false belief's, polytheism and innovative practices that have nothing to do with authentic teachings of Islam. In the preliminary stage, 12 callers to Islam have been appointed in the four most deserving districts of the province to educate the masses and help them in correcting their false beliefs and practices and bringing them closer to the essence of Islam.

More importantly, all these twelve tutors are religious scholars who have graduated from various Islamic universities in Karachi and speak the sindhi language, and from time to time, they also attend various training workshops organized by the faculty of dawah and tableegh. These workshops train them to adopt latest trends in delivering affective dawah by utilizing the methods devised by the pious salaf predecessors.

In the next few years, Al-Madina center plans to expand this project to the entire province of Sindh. The primary motive of this expansion is to guide the millions of Muslim inhabitants of the province in accordance to the correct aqeedah (creed) and in light of the teachings of the Quran and the Sunnah.

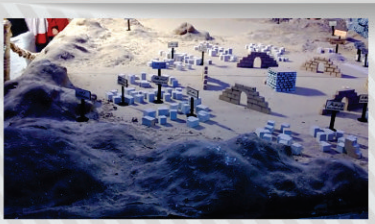

Exhibition on the Seerah of Mercy to the Worlds

صلى الله عليه وسلم

By the grace of Allah (swt), AL-Madina Islamic research center also has the distinction of organizing an exhibition in Karachi on the seerah of the Messenger (sallalaho alaihi wasallam), this exhibition was presented utilizing modern gadgets and presentation tools, yet at the same time was also thoroughly adherent to the stature and respect that is an absolute must for the Messenger of Allah (sallalaho alaihi wasallam). The people of Karachi thoroughly enjoyed and benefitted from the exhibition which received over 20,000 visitors.

Posters and panaflexes: this component of the exhibition focused on providing a complete overview of the life of the Prophet (sallalaho alaihi wasallam) in both Makkah and Madina. In this regard, over 75 posters divided into 9 different parts were put on display.

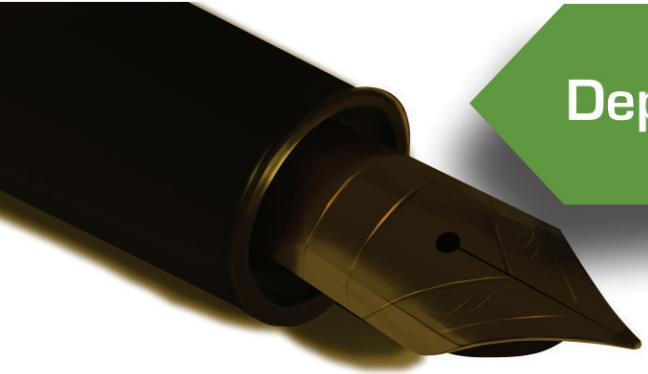

Models: this component of the exhibition was a model-based representation of the cities of Makkah and Madina, Masjid-e-Nabawi, the battles of Badar and trench and the conquest of Makkah. All these models represented these places and events as they looked and occurred during the blessed time of the Prophet (sallalaho alaihi wasallam).

Apart from this detailed exhibition material; thousands of small and large books were distributed amongst the visitors. These books also included the following gems:

- Respect for the Sunnah of the Messenger (ﷺ)
- The family trees of the companions of the Prophet (ﷺ) and the family of the Prophet (ﷺ) and the relationships between them.
- Hisnul Muslim (the invocations of the Prophet (ﷺ).
- Raheeq-ul-Makhtoom (the sealed nectar)
- Quarterly Al-Bayan magazine.

AL-BAYAAN INSTITUTE

"Al-Bayan Institute" is an entirely new concept blending of the traditional and modern styles of education. It is an educational and training institute that will not only provide wonderful opportunities to acquire top quality Islamic education but also contemporary worldly education as well. The goal is to groom the next generation in a way that they can excel in Islamic studies as well as in professional life.

In actuality, Al-Bayan institute is the first step towards the formation of a university; its initial phase will comprise of a four year educational plan that is being started as a college. For this four year period, a special Islamic education system has been devised that will be taught in Arabic and its curriculum will be derived from the one that is currently being taught at the Islamic University of Madina. Concurrently, students will also be taught modern worldly education in the form of inter-board affiliated I.Cs or I.COM (according to the selection of the student). "English" language will be used as the teaching medium and all such education will also be delivered within the premises of the "Al-Bayan" institute observing the highest standards of education and will be delivered by an experienced faculty.

DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE

During the month of Ramadan, clothing and ration in a suitable quantity to cover the entire month are distributed amongst the poor and the needy people in interior Sindh and Karachi.

Monthly distribution in manageable quantities of suitable ration to orphans and widows.

Monthly ration program:

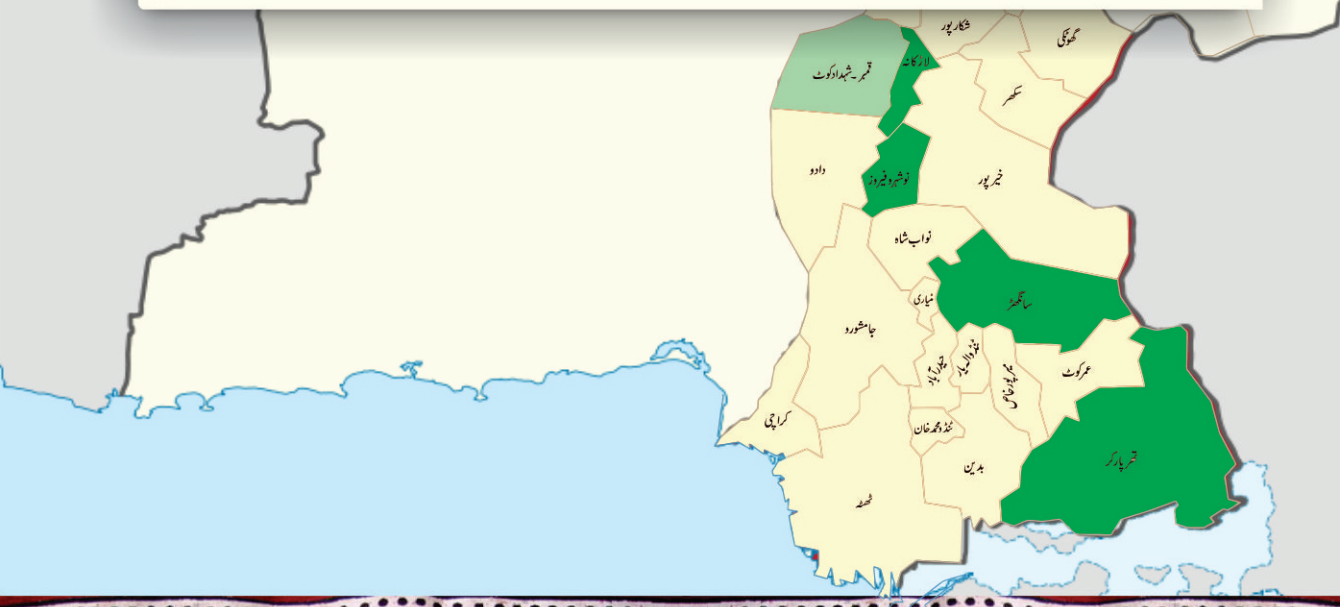

By the grace of Allah (swt), the department of welfare affairs undertakes the provision of monthly sustenance to over 500 widows and handicapped individuals in Karachi and interior Sindh. Also in order to keep their dignity intact and not to hurt their sentiments, this ration is delivered to their doorstep on a monthly basis. In'sha'Allah in the next few months the number of beneficiaries from this program will be doubled.

Provisioning of sustenance during the month of Ramadan:

The afore mentioned department also caters sustenance for over 2000 poor and destitute families during the month of Ramadan so that they can observe their suhoor and iftar without being dependent on assistance and help from other quarters.

Welfare services provisioned in the drought-hit district of tharparkar:

According to Pakistani law, if by the 15th of August each year, a particular area does not receive rain, then it is declared a drought-hit area by the government. For this particular reason, the department of welfare affairs pays special attention to this district and has undertaken various efforts in this regard: setting up permanent and temporary centers of health for patients, establishment of schools, provisioning of financial assistance for tutors, digging up of new water wells and setting up of electrical motors to extract water from existing wells, as well as this the department also makes efforts to ensure availability of tutors and teaching material in government run schools.
